

HARTFORD COURANT

7/18/08

WHAT'S HAPPENING

A Clean Energy Town

COVENTRY — The town has joined a growing list of municipalities in the state to become "Connecticut Clean Energy Communities."

A group of students from Captain Nathan Hale Middle School took the lead in promoting clean energy and helping the town win the designation. Over three years, the students promoted clean energy by developing a PowerPoint presentation on the benefits of clean energy to show to residents and members of the town council.